November 12th General Meeting

Guest Speaker: Dr. Peter J. Park

Topic: Integrating Angling, Citizen Science, and Fish Research: How the East River Can Enhance Our Understanding of the Hudson River

Dr. Peter J. Park is an Associate Professor of Biology in the Department of Natural Sciences at Nyack College in Nyack, New York. His expertise is in evolutionary ichthyology, and his current research interests include fish cognitive ecology, fish citizen science, aquaponics, phage biology, and teaching of science through active learning.

The East River is a robust marine ecosystem in the heart of NYC. The present work seeks to integrate understanding, awareness, and monitoring efforts of East River fish diversity through utilization of citizen science by achieving three goals: (i) development of a fish diversity database using data from angling and seining, (ii) establishment of novel beginners-level angling clinics at Brooklyn Bridge Park and World's Fair Marina and establishment of

Through the compilation of angling and seining data, this work will also pioneer the establishment of a growing fish data group network of environmental education organizations. This work is a partnership of Nyack College, Brooklyn Bridge Park Conservancy, and Randall’s Island Park Alliance, funded through a grant from the Marine and Coastal District of New York Conservation, Education, and Research Small Grants Program.

From our President

Hi All,

What a great month for the HRFA. The boat in the woods was moved from Garrison, NY to Jersey City. Dave Mercer did a fabulous job getting the boat off the ground and on blocks. Turns out the port side was not as bad as we had thought. Then he built a custom trailer, loaded the boat and trailered it to JC. He made this massive undertaking seem like it was nothing. Thanks Dave! More about the boat next month.

Pete Musse and Skip Wisniewski put together a Family Day that about 40 members, their family & friends attended. The food was great and some members also brought dishes that everyone enjoyed. Scott Havner fished his heart out and caught a Hudson River grand slam.

I would also like to thank two very special people that have helped me during the past three years: Chris Letts and John Vargo.

Chris just donated an almost new kayak. A 17 foot Mad River Canoe that weighs 50 pounds wet. This will be used as a raffle to raise money for the boat restoration project. He also donated two bamboo fly rods. These are light weight and in great shape. He also donated countless reels, lures, pot and pans for future Hooked on the Hudson events. Thanks Chris for your generosity.

John Vargo, where do I start? John ALWAYS has good advice. He knows the river better than anyone. That is a very strong statement but I'll stand behind it 100 %. John knows everyone on the river. Every time we (the HRFA) needs something done John is the first person to ask how to get it done. I personally have taken his advice about places to visit by boat and always had a good time. He told me about a brunch at Cornwall Yacht Club. I took three other couples one Sunday morning. We walked in and everyone was looking at us. As soon as I mentioned John's name the red carpet came out. More about the Cornwall YC. Thanks John!!

Keep March 22nd open for this year's annual HRFA awards dinner.

Chris Letts, a long time commercial fisherman on the Hudson River, donated his beautiful Mad River Canoe to us.

The Pride of the H.R.F.A.

Project to Save our Historical Heritage

By Joe Albanese

Robert H. Boyle's dream eventually became a reality when the Hudson River Fishermen's Association (formed in 1966) launched its Riverkeeper boat in 1983.

THEN

NOW

Up until Oct. 5th, the original Hudson River Fishermen's Assn's Riverkeeper boat was all but forgotten; rotting away in the woods in Garrison, NY. Now she is at Liberty Landing Marina in Jersey City awaiting her total makeover. Beginning in the Spring of 2020 volunteers will start working to refurbish her to her former days of glory when she was the world's first and only riverkeeper vessel.

October Meeting Recap

By Joseph Albanese

Check out the videos showing the transport of the HRFA Assn's original Riverkeeper vessel as it departs from upstate NY and arrives at Liberty Landing Marina in Jersey City. We are extremely grateful for the support of the marina who graciously is allowing us to use space there, free of charge, while we work on the restoration.

Present to witness the momentous occasion of the boat leaving Garrison, NY heading to Jersey City, NJ are dignitaries (from L to R) Capt. Bob Walters (retired Director of the Science Barge in Yonkers, NY), Capt. John Cronin (the world's first riverkeeper patrolling any river in the world in a motorized vessel), Dave Mercer, Janice Soto, Capt. Aram Setian, Dan Harrison, John Vargo (publisher of Boating on the Hudson), Gil Hawkins and Jessica Kuonen (NY Sea Grant Estuarine Resilience Planning and Policy Specialist for the Hudson River, Cornell University).

The October meeting focused on introducing the special project begun to restore the world's original motorized riverkeeper vessel. Its mission was to patrol the Hudson River in search of polluters and hold them accountable for the damage they cause to the river's ecosystem.

Those in attendance heard from Dan Harrison who is spearheading the effort and other committee members who have been working behind the scenes including: John Malool, Sergio Radossi, Joe Albanese, Dave Mercer, Janice Soto, Aram Setian, Arnie Ulrich and Ivan Garcia.

There was much discussion and many ideas shared with members in attendance. When Dan asked for a show of hands from those in favor of continuing the project all hands went up. With nary a discouraging word the committee is now seeking volunteers to contribute their time and talents to the restoration which will begin in the spring 2020.

Upcoming Events

Castle Point Pier Fishing Trip

You'll want to be there November 3rd when Miguel Sardinias leads us back to Castle Point Pier in Hoboken to fish for fall stripers, blackfish and whatever else may swim along.

The Hudson River is one of the most productive and diverse fisheries on the northern coast. And it's no secret that the lower part of the Hudson River is the place to catch a trophy striped bass every fall. So on Sunday, November 3rd all HRFA members are invited to come and fish off Castle Point Pier (locals call it the T) in Hoboken, NJ. The pier stretches out 125 feet into the river, has one of the best views of NYC skyline and provides excellent fishing structure.

Striped bass are not the only fish on the menu. You will have the opportunity to fish for bruiser bluefish, blackfish, ling, tommy cod, and more.

The HRFA encourages tagging fish for science. American Littoral Society tagging kits can be purchased from Kevin Morgan at any HRFA general monthly meeting. Tags may also be purchased from the American Littoral Society by clicking here.

Fishing time: 8 am – 12 pm??

Save the date because you don't want to miss this event.

If anyone has any questions on tackle, baits, etc. reach out to Michael Sardinias at 201-682-9577 or Masardinias@yahoo.com

Last call for surfcasters . . .

Come join the fun fishing with family and friends under the H.R.F.A. banner. Team (Teams?) now forming to fish in the 2020 ASAC Tournaments. If interested, please contact Joe Albanese at joealbanese2@gmail.com or Pete Musse at petemusse@gmail.com.

Nov. 2: The 2nd Annual American Angler Surf Fishing Tournament, Long Beach Island, NJ

Nov. 3: The next day is the annual New Jersey Beach Buggy Association's surf fishing tournament. Besides the traditional three beaches at Island Beach State Park, Corson's Inlet State Park and Brigantine they have added a fourth. This year American Angler petitioned successfully for the NJBBA to include LBI. This is a huge convenience for those who fished their ASAC Tournament on the same beaches the day before.

FISH & FLOODING REPORT FROM LAKE ONTARIO

By Carl Bruger

As you read this the peak of the salmon run is upon us and this scribe has to admit having done very little to put a dent in the Chinook population. Some days I took a few casts from my own flooded shoreline when I noted a salmon or two porpoising in the Perch River channel within reach of my shoreline casts using a heavy spoon. Our ruined walls called me back to cement work and the few other early tries at the recently submerged town docks also proved fruitless. Some of you may have noticed I did not write much lately but between cementing and sand bagging, River Views was a “priority” that came up when I was already sound asleep.

The summer of 2019 recorded the highest flood waters ever recorded on Lake Ontario and they held this level for destructive week after week eating away at every shoreline property on the lake doing multimillions in damage because the only outlet that could control the height was a single dam on the St. Lawrence River called the Moses-Saunders dam near Montreal. This single bottle-neck is the key to letting 20% of all the fresh water in the world out into the Atlantic Ocean from all five Great Lakes! That's right! Water from the top of Lake Superior eventually flows together with the waters in Huron, Michigan, Erie, and Ontario to flow into the great St. Lawrence and out into the ocean. It takes days to drop the lake depth a quarter inch and that is if nature cooperates by not sending copious amounts of additional precipitation. The Great Lakes basin was deluged with up to 17 more inches of snow and rain than normal this winter and spring so the too late moves of the committee were compounded!

This committee of six men and women, three from Canada and three from the USA, {Perfect to avoid being sued by either country}, totally screwed up the water levels with a new plan called 2014 which was supposed to improve wetlands but to most of us is a simple ruse to help the rich shippers get wealthier by letting the cargo ships run heavier and deeper with no risk. Already new improved ports like the one in Oswego are showing huge profits to prove this point. Tourism is unfortunately a second level priority. The NY State Governor Cuomo has spoken out to help the area and money has been promised but the water is already under the bridge in more ways than one.

Our property will be elevated and improved with dozens of truckloads of rock, stone, dirt, clay, sand, and cement block. We will have an EPA approved berm at the swamp in the back and walls to deflect potential waves from future floods in the front and sides. Our road in is several feet higher rock so only a flood worse than 2019 will ruin a future summer. We pray.

Which segues well into meeting a 10 year old fisherman, Andrew, at our local Dexter Methodist Church. He was visiting his grandma, our neighbor parishioner down the road. Andrew loved to fish as I learned from my wife, Pat from the previous week. So naturally I took him perch fishing and we caught a dozen or so off our wall and I filleted them so he could have a “shore dinner” with his family featuring the perch that he caught. He let me know how much he loved angling and hoped to get some salmon gear next. That was a cue to head over to the Bruger fishing shed and equip the young man with a spinning and fly outfit so we could plan our next more extensive expeditions in pursuit of trophy salmon. Future articles will hopefully share some exciting tales of angling adventures of Andrew and me. He’s got himself an Ugly Stick spinning rod and new Penn reel plus a 7 weight Shu Fly fly rod and matching weight reel that this old coot will gladly exchange for the joy of teaching a polite youngster the joys of casting for trophy salmon.

I look forward to seeing most of my HRFA friends in November or December when we return to New Jersey for the winter to smoke some of the salmon catch.

GOOD NEWS! After finishing a goal of 20 bags of mortar in our repaired and raised walls, I started fishing for Chinooks in October and had the good fortune to encounter a run of early whoppers. My Cleo spoon finally hooked a monster hen that was 41 1/2” and had to be well over 30 pounds but I let her go because the hooks lodged in her belly, not the mouth. I enjoyed the 20 minute battle, but folks thought I was nuts for letting the trophy go. “That’s the rules, not worth the fine, and there’s a long season to go”. That was my general reply to the well meaning townsfolk who were rooting for me to land the king. I’ll be fishing almost every day as of now for salmonids and will let you know more results.

The big Ontario rivers are packed with kings now! Come on up!
